

Dallas Business Journal

Wednesday, April 15, 2009

Real estate pros form EDGE Realty Partners

Dallas Business Journal

Commercial real estate veterans are joining forces to form EDGE Realty Partners, a real estate firm that will offer clients development, brokerage and investment services.

The firm's focus will be on retail.

EDGE Realty was formed by Adam Schiller and Brian Murphy who will serve as managing principals. Schiller and Murphy served as principals at Austin-based Endeavor Real Estate Group and purchased the firm's Dallas-area assets. The pair will run their corporate office in Endeavor's space, which is located at 5950 Berkshire Lane in Dallas.

In addition to Murphy and Schiller, the firm will leverage the talent of former Staubach Retail colleagues Greg Bracchi, Steve Ewing, Mike Leonard and Michael Stern, who will serve EDGE as principals. Josh Flores and Lauren Johnson will also be a part of the new team, Edge Realty said in a press statement.

The firm is positioning itself to benefit from opportunities that the team expects to find as a result of the economic downturn.